SOCIAL AND PERSONAL MUSICAL

Judge Morris B. Beardsley returned yesterday from the National Convention Sons of American Revolution, as president-general of the society, having received, by unanimous vote, the greatest honor that can be accorded by the society. Judge Beardsley is much pleased at the progress the society has been making, and with the healthy condition of its finances. Judge and Mrs. Beardsley, and President Lewis B. Curtis of the Connecticut Society, Sons of American Revolution, left this morning, Thursday, in a special car attached to the Colonial express. The car was tendered to the Connecticut delegation by Judge Beardsley. The session was the 50th annual and was opened at 10 o'clock Friday morning. The prayer was offered by Cardinal Gibbons in his full pontifical robes. Two hundred delegates were present from 44 states, representing 12,000 members.

"Jingle," the little fox terrier who was a regular visitor at the Bridgeport Orphan Asylum, delighting the children with his pranks, is no more. "Jingle" was killed by a trolley last week. Hence there is mourning among the children. "Jingle" was owned by Mrs. E. L. Hartwell.

Richard C. Raymond, for eighteen years manager with C. Russell & company, City Bakery, has resigned his position.

The recital by the pupils of G. H. Casella, last night, was well attended. Miss Bertha Holbrook, Albert Albertson, Anthony Angeli, and Anthony Scarmello rendered selections upon piano in a creditable way. Master Alfred Newman, who is only seven years old, did some remarkable playing. The vocalists were Mr. T. Berglund, Anthony Spinnello, and Misses Rose Garavanta, Rose Pastine, Mary Odlich, R. Richards, and L. Richards. J. Capozzi, Mr. Garavanta, Mr. Curlio, E. Dondero, E. Rapellini, and A. Carpentieri.

The third annual exhibition by the members of the Slocum gymnasium was held in the Armory, Saturday afternoon, before a large audience. The number of members participating was 150. The classes included were the Senior, the Junior, the Monday evening class, the Advanced Class and the Classic dancing class. The members of each class were indicated by a difference in the tie attached to the collar of the gymnasium blouse. One of the events of the occasion was the selection of Miss Edith C. Russell, keeping time with the music. The music, it may be said in passing, was furnished by the Wheeler & Wilson orchestra, which was directed by one of Miss Slocum's assistants. The Friday evening class gave a full drill which received much favorable comment. Some 50 or more dancers participated in the scarf dance. The dancers wore broad bands of colored gauze, which floated in the air, producing beautiful effects. Another attractive dance was the American School Dance entitled, "How Do You Do." The games included competitive straight and croquet by the Senior Class and the Friday evening class and a relay race by the Junior class. The classic dancing was a revelation to those who were not familiar with the work that is being done in this direction. The military drill was as nearly perfect as such a thing can be. The Czardine Hungarian dance was rapturously greeted. The dancers wore the Hungarian National Costume, short gown, little apron, and high heeled shoes. The closing day Miss Slocum will give the closing reception for her dancing classes and will a little later go to Europe, not to return until the autumn.

The appointment of Harry Lush, a coachman, to the position of driver of the composing department of the old Morning Union, and who held other responsible positions in the newspaper offices of this city, was visiting old friends in town, this morning. He is now at the head of the composing department of the New York Journal.

Edison Warner, a well known Bridgeport boy, who was formerly foreman of the composing department of the old Morning Union, and who held other responsible positions in the newspaper offices of this city, was visiting old friends in town, this morning. He is now at the head of the composing department of the New York Journal.

"Cardinal Gibbons robed in his full pontifical vestments opened the session of the S. A. R. society in Bridgeport, on Friday, and made a most profound impression on the delegates assembled."—Hon. M. B. Beardsley.

"Just as soon as we can get these old houses out of the way our new buildings will be rushed to completion. We need them."—J. W. Keppy.

"Jack McDonough is the Adonis of the crowd."—Leo Redgate.

"Within five years, airships will be carrying passengers across the ocean in eighteen hours—200 miles an hour. Aerial flight will be commercialized in that time. The north pole can and will be reached in a forty hour trip. The perfected helicopter will be able to conquer the globe in a week."—Thomas A. Edison.

"At the present state of progress we should certainly have machines with in a few years that would travel at the rate of sixty miles an hour, and be able to carry a load of fifteen hundred pounds."—Hiram Maxim.

"Any man who is quick at picking up things can easily learn to fly in two hours."—Wilbur Wright.

"Flying may be all right, but walking is my hobby."—D. F. Weston.

"The Consumption Relief Society will accomplish much good in the different shops."—J. G. Ludlum.

Mrs. M. J. Barnes and daughter, Miss May, of St. Joseph, Mo., are visiting the Misses Fawley on Elmwood avenue.

Mrs. George R. Burnes, wife of Attorney George R. Burnes, entertained a few friends in delightful fashion at her home on Fremont street, Saturday afternoon, in honor of her birthday.

Attorney F. W. Tracy and family are occupying their new home in Fairfield avenue.

"Those who have not yet visited the D. M. Read Company's Tea Room, have a treat in store. Easily reached by either of two elevators, or one flight of stairs, the Tea Room is ideally situated, its furnishings in exquisite taste and while not large, will accommodate a party comfortably. The viands served are of the service and of the first order—and as one satisfied patron remarked—"fully the equal of 'Therapy'." They have had some of the best patronage thus far and on many days were entirely sold out long before the hour of closing.

Many persons from this city will attend the Auto Carnival parade, which takes place this afternoon in New York City. The King of the Carnival, Mr. Guy Vaughan, will drive a gaily decorated Stearns car, while the Queen, Miss Annette Kellerman, will manage an elaborately trimmed Buick machine.

Mrs. Walter Laidlaw of Washington Terrace, while passing along Park avenue several days ago, stumbled over a projection in the walk and was thrown violently to the pavement. Mrs. Laidlaw was removed to her home, where Dr. Budgett, the family physician, is in daily attendance.

LEW.
LILLEY'S ESTATE
ABOUT $1,000,000

One-Third is in Insurance—He Meant to Be Most Heavily Insured Man in Connecticut.

Waterbury, May 3.—Though there has been no probate of the will of Gov. G. L. Lilley it is certain he made one and the publication of it may occasion surprise. His estate will approximate $1,000,000, one-third insurance and two-thirds securities and real estate.

He had much more insurance, but during the insurance disturbances in New York, in which the larger companies were out of the State, he turned to New York Mutual Life policy of $200,000 in two and made other changes, including that of the New York State and for the insurance investigations would have carried $1,000,000. The will provides for a trust, which will be managed by a committee of seven, and names as trustees his wife, his brother, John Lilley, and his youngest son, Theodore, to keep the estate to the benefit of his three sons. Mrs. Lilley is given an allowance of $300 monthly and each of the sons is also allowed $200 monthly. The will also provides for the sum of $20,000 to establish himself in any business.

The Lilley is well liked in his own right. None of those who know her holdings place them at less than $125,000.

WALL STREET
CONDITIONS
(Watson and Alpers.)

It is obvious from the stock market's recent movements that liquidation of no importance follows the frequent attacks of the market. The foundation for confidence in the future course of values, for it exhibits an investment absorption that is backed by the support of various pools whose operations are favored by cheap money. And notwithstanding the enormous amount of borrowing for Government, major and minor, and by corporations, since the money market became available to borrowers through the return of confidence, the market has been able to maintain its position. The lingering course of tariff revision is a bar to full industrial recovery, but a settlement of this uncertainty is a matter of surety within two months at the utmost. Nor is there proper ground for doubt as to the position of the market. Therefore, while we may still have phases of professional manipulation to furnish irregularity to the market, we believe that the present outlook for crops, industry and traffic justifies purchases whenever normal reactions occur.

Deaths and Funerals

Many sorrowing friends and relatives attended the funeral services over the remains of Charles E. Holden, who died as the result of a shock sustained a week ago, held yesterday afternoon from his late residence, 445 Lewis street, at 2 o'clock and thence to the Sacred Heart church at 2:30 where the services were conducted by Rev. T. J. Brennan. The casket was surrounded with a wealth of floral tokens attesting the widespread respect and esteem entertained for the deceased. The pall bearers were Mr. Hanley, James P. McLaughlin, Thomas Condon, Charles Deas, Michael Kenny and Timothy O'Brien. The interment was in St. Michael's cemetery.

Funeral services over the remains of Edwin C. Fordham, for many years employed by the Burritt Lumber Company, and who was found dead in bed at his home, 36 Spring street, a few days ago, were held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock at St. E. Rector of the Washington Park M. E. church officiating. A large delegation of the employees of the Burritt Lumber Company attended the services and accompanied the remains to the grave in Lakeview cemetery.

IN THE THEATRES

POLI'S

Charmion, the most perfect woman in the world, will headline a splendid bill at Poli's this week. Charmion will be the sensation of the season here. The act is the most startling novelty ever presented on any stage. Charmion combines a wonderful physique with a marvelous beauty and grace of manner, form and figure. Her exhibition of her splendidly developed muscles given on a trapeze and bar will cause a furore. Charmion is not a freak, not a side show "strong woman." She is the acme of womanly grace and beauty combined with an unparalleled muscular development. Her act includes a running fire of wit and persiflage of enemies, some features startling in their originality.

At every performance beginning with this afternoon's matinee, Charmion will distribute hundreds of souvenirs amongst the audience.

The supporting bill this week includes a galaxy of topnotch acts, embracing: The Olivette Troubadours, Spanish operatic serenaders; Elsie Harvey, the popular song and dance artist, and her boys; Muller, Churn and Muller, adept hoop rollers; the famous "The Three Kings," comedians, who write their own songs; Carter, Waters & Co., in a clever comedy sketch entitled, "Excess Baggage"; Myers and Ross, "Western Whirlwinds," in clever lariat throwing, and entertaining motion pictures on the Electograph.

ROOSEVELT'S PROWESS WITH THE RIFLE AMAZES NATIVES

Both Former President and Son Kermit Praised as Magnificent Hunters—The Colonel Brings Down Three Lions and a Lioness and Is After Giraffe Today.

(By Warrington Dawson, Staff Correspondent of the United Press.)
Nairobi, British East Africa, May 3.—With five lions and numerous specimens of smaller game as the bag of his hunt, the former President of the United States, Theodore Roosevelt, and his son, Kermit, have returned to Nairobi after a successful hunting trip. The former President, who is now in the East African campaign, has been hunting for lions and other big game in the Mau Hills and the country adjacent until the fourteenth when they start for Nairobi, reaching there on the morning of the 15th. The party will be in Nairobi for a couple of days later to Sotik.

The trip of the members of the party to Fort Hall yesterday morning to witness the capture of 400 warriors and Kikuyu chiefs was a success. The party were received with full regal honors and saw the dance from a platform raised on the parade ground at the fort. The chiefs presented Colonel Roosevelt with a goat, 3 sheep, a bull and a wild ostrich while he in turn gave each a piece of silver. When asked about the hunting of Friday and Saturday, Colonel Roosevelt declared that he had been very successful. He had killed the lion just as they had decided to end the day's sport, landing it with a shot through the brain. It was by long odds the finest specimen killed the mane being particularly large and heavy.

Kermit was overjoyed at his success and explained that after killing the lion he had landed a cheetah or hunting leopard with a shot at long range. Both Colonel Roosevelt and his son were according to the reports that have reached here, try for heart shots at all game and so far have failed to kill any. This has greatly pleased the native hunters as they can take chances in beating game, knowing that a heavy calibre bullet in the heart will stop any lion in his track. It is hardly likely if the party succeeds in getting on the trail of giraffe to-day that the news of a kill will reach here for a day or so as the hunters port to the southward when they broke their camp at Wami to-day.

SMITH'S.

This evening, one of the finest programs of animated pictures and illustrated songs ever seen in Bridgeport will be shown, and Friday, afternoon and evening, still another will be given. Smith's is the only place in the city where the pictures can be seen with real pleasure, for they are shown double the size possible anywhere else, and they are always of the finest quality. The best films obtainable by anyone are shown at Smith's and the theatre is so large that you can see them with much better effect than anywhere else. Smith's is the place to go if you want to see moving pictures. The cost is nothing, and the pictures are invariably delightful. Be sure and see the two bills presented this week.

Another travel trip for the stay-at-home tourist will be given to-morrow evening, when Fred Niblo, the American humorist-traveler, will return for the third of his zig-zag journeys around the world. On this occasion Mr. Niblo will conduct a pictorial pilgrimage through Russia, from the Black Sea to Siberia. Since the great war between Russia and America, this wondrous Empire, Russia, has been a subject of much interest to Americans. Through the medium of snapshot pictures, motion pictures and views, this talented entertainer most graphically depicts scenes and sights most educational and delightful. In fact, almost as a personal visit to Russia. Starting at the borderland, the audience is conducted through Warsaw, St. Petersburg, and through its boulevards and side streets, showing both the interior and exterior of the many palaces and cathedrals. The view of Peterhoff Imperial Palace, with its fountains, gardens, and a half-hour's visit with the Czar and his family at home form a most interesting feature of this "travel talk." With many a quaint quip and story Mr. Niblo conducts his hearers through from Poland to Finland, introducing Moscow, the Holy City, and showing within the sacred walls of the Kremlin by means of motion pictures some very rare religious ceremonies. The Cossack soldiers in action are shown, as are also life sized figures of the Russian people, the great Russian Fair, and in fact, all phases and forms of Russian life from peasant to nobleman are depicted on the canvas and talked on in a breezy, witty manner by Mr. Niblo.

The Imperial Grand Opera Co., under the direction of Louis Cuccia, will be heard Wednesday evening in "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "I Pagliacci" and Thursday evening, in "Il Trovatore." The organization of noted artists selected from the famous La Scala, of Milan, and the San Carlo opera, of Naples. The principal artists are: M. Niblo, who has created many principal roles in the leading opera houses of Italy. She is a dramatic soprano, and her triumphs in "Il Trovatore" and "Cavalleria Rusticana" are well known. M. Those who have not read Owen Wister's uncommonly successful novel, "The Virginian," will perhaps hardly appreciate the eagerness with which those who have read the book are looking forward to the presentation of its dramatization next Saturday afternoon and evening. It is doubtful if any hero of fiction since the era of big selling novels has ever taken so firm a grip on the hearts of both men and women as the cowboy hero of this novel. The knight of the cattle country, in him Mr. Wister has shown us a specimen of sturdy American manhood that has been irresistibly alluring to readers and that cannot but be even more effective in a stage representation. W. S. Hart will be seen as the Virginian and Frank Campbell as Trampas.

Well, they're off! The sale of seats for the "big show" opened this morning with the demand exceeding the supply. The opening sale for the Sperry productions in any year since they were first started, twelve years ago. "The Show Girl" is sure to beat all records, for the desire to see this latest effort of the popular young playwright is almost universal. But cheer up! The theatre seats 2,200, you know, and there will be twelve performances of this twelfth annual production. That means a possibility of 15,840 in seat-holders. The demand for seats is so great that the theatre is already sold out for the first night of the season. There is plenty of room for those who are eager to see the show, but who delay in obtaining seats until it is too late. Last year over 25,000 people witnessed the performances of "The Girl From Stratford," this year that number will doubtless be augmented for it will be a case of "Standing Room Only" at every performance. The indications at present are not misleading. "The Show Girl" will undoubtedly be found the most brilliant offering which has ever emanated from Mr. Sperry's facile pen, with more musical numbers, more cleverly constructed plots, more good comedy, more scenic and electrical effects, and more glister than has ever put into any of his works. This season's offering will be a "corker," and you can't afford to miss it. Get your seats early.

RUSSIA WILL PREVENT ANY INTERFERENCE FROM GERMANY

Czar Determined on Drastic Measures to Preserve Order in Revolutionary Districts of Persia.

(Special from United Press.)
Odessa, May 2.—Determined to prevent any Turkish-German interference with her plan to preserve order in the revolutionary districts of Persia, Russia to-day began the mobilization of military forces in several cities of southern Russia. Enormous commissaries are being made and orders have been placed for 20,000 reinforcements. The mobilization of Russian forces at Tabriz the Czar is declared to have evinced many evidences of fear that the poisoning of Persia's revolutionary centers would be prevented.

Third Anniversary Celebrated by Kleban & Gelman. Many Thanks To All.
We wish to acknowledge your kind patronage during the three brief years of our business life in Bridgeport. The public here have shown their approval of our methods and policies and we are grateful and would give evidence of our gratitude. We are justly proud of our record in those three years. We feel that we have deserved the success of our business, have helped us to achieve. We have never swerved from original ideas, to give good goods, honest values, entire satisfaction and to advertise our offerings truthfully. Your appreciation of these principles has enabled us to live up to our fixed standard, and we again express our thanks.
